

Stoats are a serious threat to Orkney wildlife

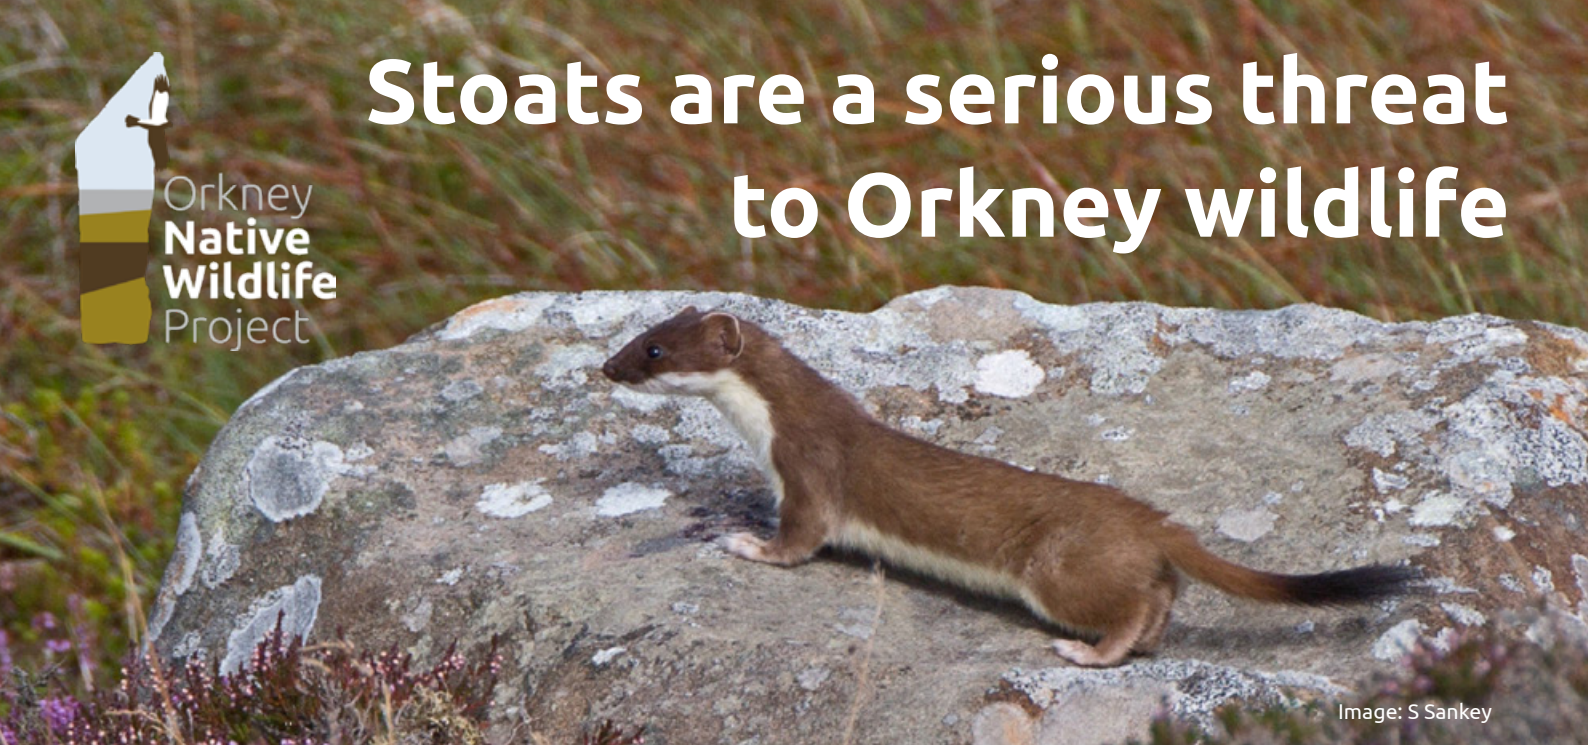

Image: S Sankey

Have you seen a Stoat?

If you think you have seen a stoat please tell us as soon as possible. Find out more about the project and how to identify a stoat on our website www.orkneynativewildlife.org.uk

Stoats turn white in winter, but always keep a black tip to the tail. Stoats and rats are similar in size so look out for the stoat's bounding gait rather than the rat's scurrying low to the ground.

Image: David Craig

Scan me

info@onwp.org

01856 881451

Protecting our native wildlife together:

